GENUINE STUDENT ASSESSMENT:
Student Profile Form

Curtin University

Demonstrating Your Genuine Student Status

To study in Australia, applicants must prove they are genuine students whose primary intent is to pursue an education and that they possess the financial capacity to fund their studies and living expenses. Your answers to the following questions will help us assess your eligibility:

Important Guidelines:

- Originality: Describe your own unique circumstances. Do not copy others or use AI-generated text; doing so will result in an immediate rejection. Your responses should reflect your current English proficiency.
- Honesty: Be truthful. Disclose any past visa refusals or academic issues honestly with a clear explanation.
- Evidence: Support all claims with documentation, such as employment references, proof of financial capacity (bank statements, loan approvals, or tax assessments), and relationship documents (birth certificates or government IDs).
- Verification: We verify all documents with the issuing authorities. We may request further evidence or a GS interview if more clarity is needed.
- Timelines: You must provide any requested documents within 7 working days. Please note: if a specific application or offer acceptance deadline is approaching, you may have less time to submit this evidence. Failure to meet these timelines may result in your application being rejected.

Note: Our assessment aligns with the Department of Home Affairs Genuine Student (GS) requirements.

Section 3: Genuine Student Assessment Questions

Question 1: Personal and Economic Circumstances (Max 150 Words)
Provide details regarding your current circumstances in your home country (or country of residence). Your response must address the following:

- Family and Community Ties: Describe your immediate family unit, their occupations, and any significant social or community commitments that link you to your home country.
- Economic Circumstances: Briefly outline your family's financial position, including liquid assets (savings/investments) and immovable assets (property/land).
- Employment and History: Summarize your work history (if applicable), including roles, employers, and salary. You must provide a clear explanation for any gaps in your employment or education history.
- Special Considerations: If applicable, mention any military/national service obligations or significant civil unrest in your home country that impacts your circumstances.

Tip for Applicants: This section helps us understand your "incentive to return" following the completion of your studies. Be concise and ensure all financial claims can be supported by the documentation you upload.

Question 2: Course Choice and Research (Max 150 Words)
Explain your rationale for choosing this specific course at Curtin University in Australia. Your response must address the following:

- Comparative Research: Summarize your research into other study destinations and institutions. Why is Australia a better fit for you than other countries, and why did you choose Curtin over other Australian universities?
- Course Value and Interest: Why have you selected this specific program? Detail what you hope to learn and how the curriculum aligns with your interests.
- Local Availability: Explain why you are choosing to study abroad rather than enrolling in a similar course in your home country.
- Institutional Knowledge: Demonstrate your understanding of Curtin University, including specific details about the campus where you will be based.
- Living and Logistics: Outline your planned accommodation (type, location, and cost) and your transport strategy for commuting to campus. If staying with relatives, specify their relationship to you and any financial arrangements (e.g., rent).

Tip for Applicants: Avoid generic statements. Use specific details from your research to show that your decision to study at Curtin is well-informed and intentional.

Question 3: Value of the Course to Your Future (Max 150 Words)
Explain how completing this course will provide a clear benefit to your professional future. Your response must address the following:

- Educational Consistency: Explain how this course aligns with your previous academic background. If you are changing fields or studying at the same level as a previous qualification, you must provide a compelling justification for this decision.
- Career Relevance: How does this program relate to your past employment or your proposed future career path in your home country (or a third country)?
- Employment Prospects and Return On Investment (ROI): Detail how this qualification will improve your job prospects. Provide specific examples of roles you will be eligible for and the expected salary increase or professional benefits you anticipate achieving upon graduation.
- Future Incentives: Demonstrate how the skills and credentials gained at Curtin will incentivize your professional career progression outside of Australia.

Tip for Applicants: Be specific about the “value add.” Instead of saying “it will help me get a better job,” mention specific job titles or industries in your home country where an overseas degree is highly regarded.

Question 4: Immigration History and Australian Ties (Max 150 Words)
Provide any additional information that supports your status as a genuine student. Your response must address the following:

- Immigration Record: Detail the visa history for both you and your spouse (if applicable) in Australia and all other countries. You must disclose all successful applications, refusals, cancellations, deportations, or protection/asylum claims.
- Relatives in Australia: Disclose any relatives currently residing in Australia. Include their relationship to you, their location, their visa status, and their occupation.
- Geographic Justification: If you have family in Australia but are choosing to study at Curtin University in Western Australia instead of their home state, explain the academic or professional reasons behind this choice.
- Other Relevant Factors: Include any other significant information that demonstrates your intent to comply with visa conditions and your genuine interest in pursuing higher education.

Tip for Applicants: Full transparency is essential. Non-disclosure of immigration history, even if it occurred many years ago or in a different country, can lead to an immediate visa refusal based on integrity grounds.

Question 5: Previous Australian Study and Visa History (Max 150 Words)
This question applies only to applicants who currently hold or previously held an Australian visa. Please address the following:

- Academic Engagement: If you have previously studied in Australia, demonstrate your commitment to your education. Confirm how you met course progression requirements, participated in assessments/placements, and whether you completed the course on schedule.
- Course Transfers or Non-Completion: If you did not complete a previous course, you must provide a compelling reason for the withdrawal and explain why transferring to Curtin University represents a logical progression for your career.
- Study Gaps: Provide a clear and documented explanation for any gaps in your Australian study history exceeding two months.
- Visa Transitions: If you are currently on a non-student visa (e.g., Visitor or Working Holiday visa), explain how switching to a Student Visa is a necessary and logical step for your professional development.

Tip for Applicants: The DHA looks for a “ladder” of progression. Ensure your explanation shows how this new course builds upon your previous experiences rather than simply serving as a way to remain in Australia.
